Hi
Hope you are doing well!

Just a little update regarding the timeline
We will begin with our operations from this week.

We had a word with a few factory owners about the procurement of textile waste and we will be visiting them to get an idea about the quality and quantity of waste that is available.

Simultaneously, we will start working on the designs for apparels as well as toys. We aim to have some designs ready by the second week of February, so that we can give them to the artisans for stitching and have a few final products ready.
