Summary Of The Event-:

FPL or the Finance Premier League (January) was an internal competition of the Finance and Investment Cell of Aryabhata College where 2 teams of 11 members each competed with each other over weekly events. Its purpose was to hone the practical skills of all participants, promote teamwork and healthy competition as well as spread financial literacy by exploring different creative methods.

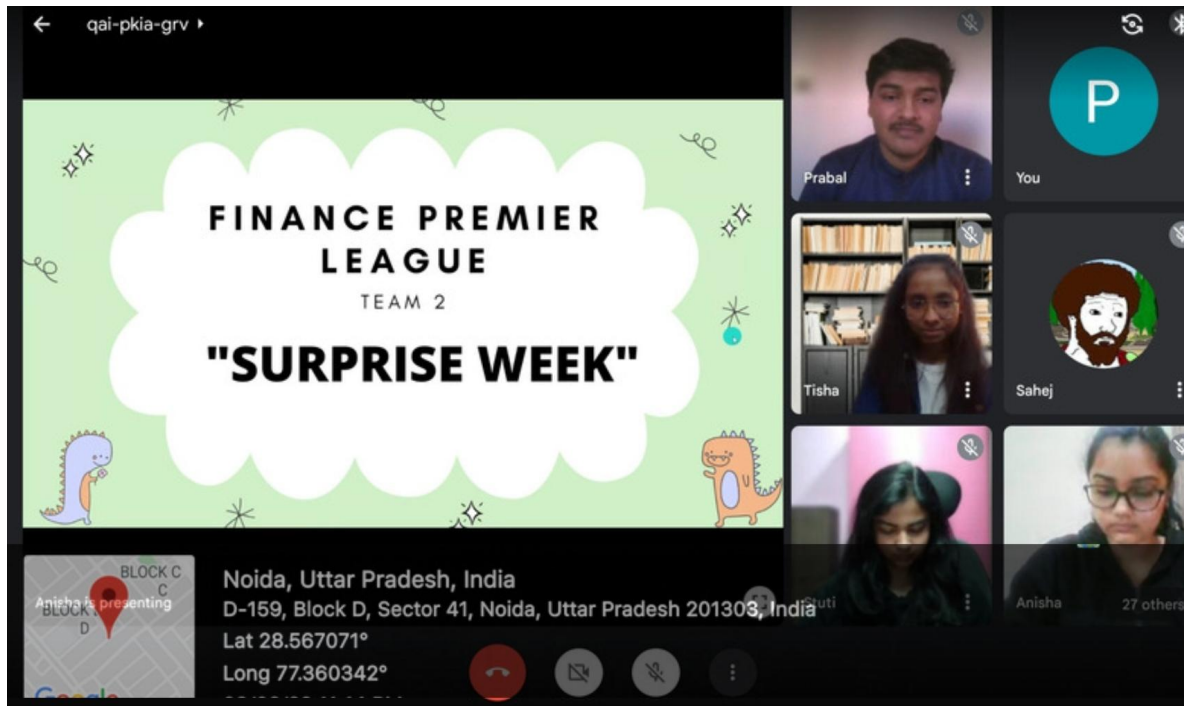

The theme of FPL January was “India as a cashless economy”. In the first event, both teams were required to create a one-slide Instagram story on this topic, the deadline for the task was 10th January. The task tested the creativity of both teams as well as their teamwork with teammates who they barely knew.

The second event was to create a post on any topic under the theme. Team 1 chose to make a post on cryptocurrency while team 2 made a post elaborating the future of India as a cashless society. Both posts were posted on FIC Aryabhata’s official Instagram page. The third event was a debate on the motion “ Are NFTs a good investment option?”, Team 2 was for the motion while Team 1 was against the motion. On 23rd January, 4 members of each team participated in the debate to argue their side.

The 4th and the last event of FPL January was a surprise event as well an article, under the surprise event, both teams had the freedom to conduct any sort of event they felt like. Team 1 made a podcast discussing the feasibility of a cashless economy in India as well as a story-making competition. Team 2 conducted a quiz, both surprise events were very well received.

At the end, scores of all the events were added up and Team 1 was declared the winner of FPL January.
