Report by: Nandini Vashishth

The Department of Business Economics and the Department of History jointly conducted a hybrid seminar on 10th March 2022 on the raging contemporary topic, 'The war in Ukraine'. The speaker was a professor of the department of history of university of Delhi, Prof. Anirudh Deshpande, a practicing historian with numerous history books, research papers and international encyclopedia entries to his credit. The seminar commenced with the motivating words of our Principal Prof. Manoj Sinha after which Mr Anirudh Deshpande was presented with a token of respect.

The speaker threw light on the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine and their ancestral history which was appreciated by all the attendees. The historical viewpoint gave a comprehensive perspective and enhanced everyone's understanding. The seminar concluded with an enthusiastic engagement by the attendees in the QnA session. Around 55 students and 13 faculty members attended the session.
