Professor Sankarshan Basu, having prolific knowledge in the field of Quantitative Analysis gave insight to undergraduates who are pursuing an MBA. He talked about his experiences and the current status of 'Finance and Economics', and the experience necessary to undertake this aspect of Economics. The speaker session lasted about 1hr 30mins and ended with a Q/A session through which students were able to ask questions and clear their queries. BA(H)ECONOMICS and BA PROGRAMME students, who mainly constituted the audience were able to receive personal guidance from the speaker himself regarding future MBA aspects.

The whole session was widely considered to be very informative for all the students who constituted the audience.
